

New Website - Under Construction

News Release Date

03-20-2023

Welcome to the new City of Lander website! We are excited to provide you with updated information and better functionality. This site is still under construction and you will continue to see major updates in the weeks to come. New features will include online fillable forms, text alerts, interactive park maps, and more. Please check back often to see the changes.